

CONNECTORS

What's new?

Continuously in a wish to help you in your spare parts selection, this ERCD flash will give you information about connectors.

Connectors are often needed on regulation boards and unfortunately they cannot be easily identified.

The mapping below will help service technicians and customers to find out the relevant connectors.

For the most represented boards, connector kits have also been created.

This bulletin is a first edition. It will be updated in the future with new requirements.
