What's new?

The Emergency Repair Kits facilitate the maintenance and first repairs of heating and air conditioning units. The kits can be stored nearby the units, in the maintenance area or in the technicians van. The main parts are always at the technician's disposal to perform quick and easy repairs.

Standard kits have been designed to cover all units' sizes. Parts related to the various options could be made available upon customers' request.

For any kit request not mentioned in this flash, please contact us and we will study the possibility of creating a special one.
